

Institute for Strategic Policy Solutions
at St. Petersburg College presents:

Full of Hate: The Toll of Violent Extremism

Thursday, January 25
6-8:15 p.m.

Seminole Campus Conference Center
St. Petersburg College
9200 113th St. North, Seminole

Hate groups are on the rise – as is the violence their members generate. Since the violent marches last August in Charlottesville, Va., white nationalists, neo-Nazis and sovereign militias have moved out of the shadows, spewing messages of hate on the street, in mass media and on the internet. Why do people join violent hate groups, and how do they affect American politics? Moreover, how do they impact the lives of those they hate? Join us to learn about the journey of a former violent far-right extremist and hear from a distinguished panel representing minority groups as they explore these questions in depth.

Presented in partnership with:
Eckerd College's Osher Lifelong Learning Institute.

Seating is limited and online registration is required.

Register now

Includes dinner & program:

$25 Guests

$20 Students & Educators

<http://solutions.spcollege.edu>

or call 727-394-6942 for more information

Featured Speaker:

Angela King, Deputy Director & Co-Founder,
Life After Hate

Panelists:

Gina Duncan, Director, Transgender Equality
Equality Florida

Jack Packer, Professor of Social and Behavioral Science,
St. Petersburg College

Hassan Shibly, Chief Executive Officer,
Council on American- Islamic Relations Florida

Presenting Media Sponsors

St. Petersburg College is committed to equal access/equal opportunity in its programs, activities, and employment. For additional information visit www.spcollege.edu/eao/.

14-5001-04

INSTITUTE FOR STRATEGIC POLICY SOLUTIONS

SPC St. Petersburg
College

